Published Articles

Joette’s Articles

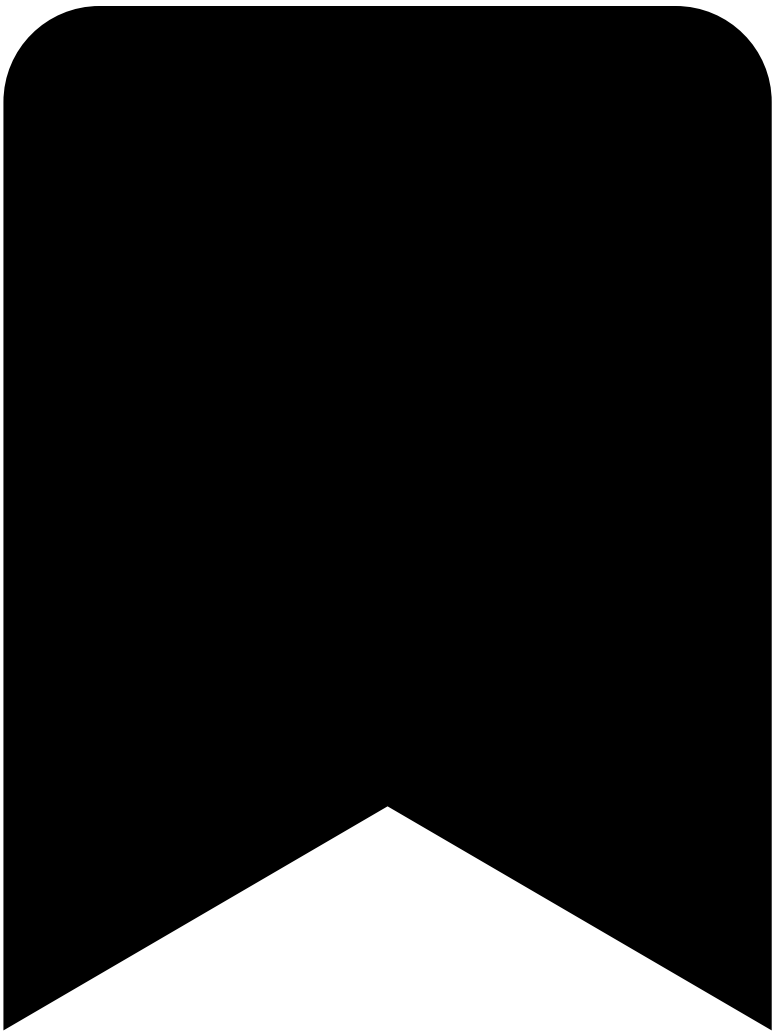

Homeopathy History

Since starting this process with Joette, I’ve seen amazing results. A longstanding issue vanished, and I finally felt relief from anxiety and depression after years. Joette’s insights, responsiveness, and expertise make this process one I’d recommend to anyone.
– Bonnie, (Westfield, NY)

Read More

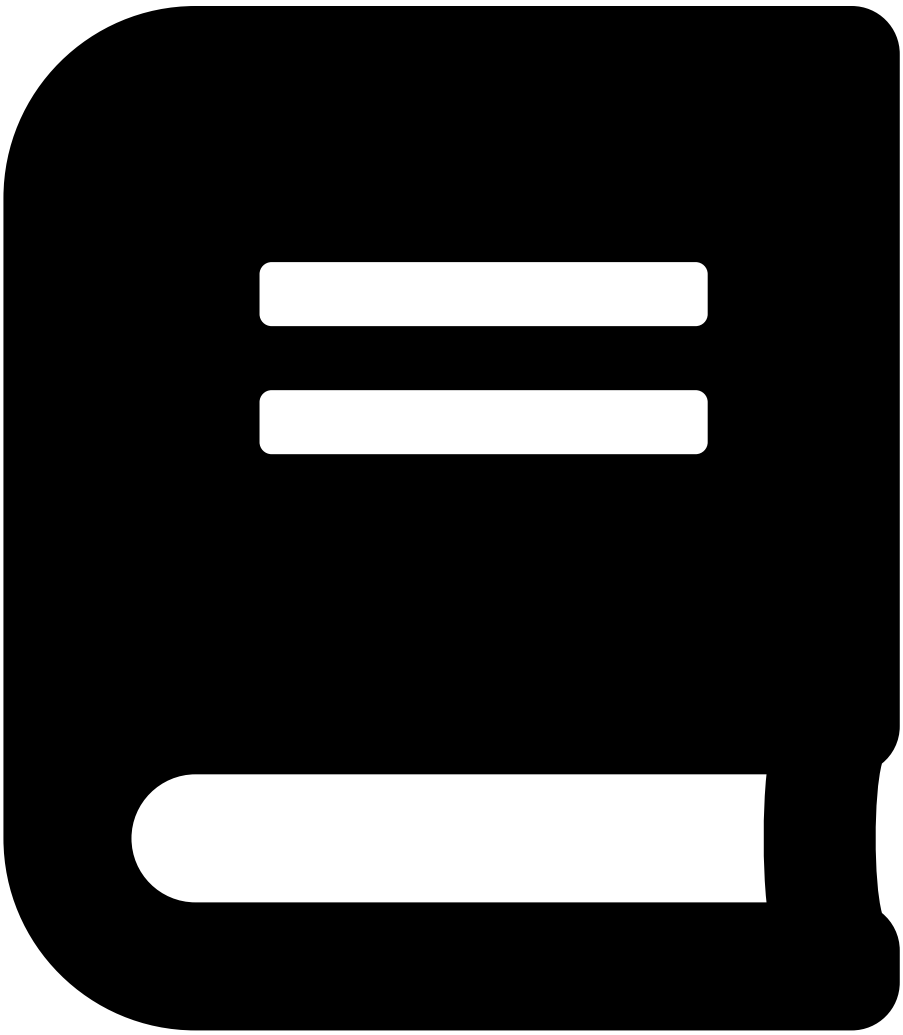

Homeopathy Medicine for the Millenium by Joette Calabrese

Health perspectives are shifting profoundly. People question why antibiotics, once vital, are now deemed dangerous, and why classrooms are filled with asthmatics and ADHD children — conditions nearly unheard of a generation ago. Medicine must make sense.

Read More

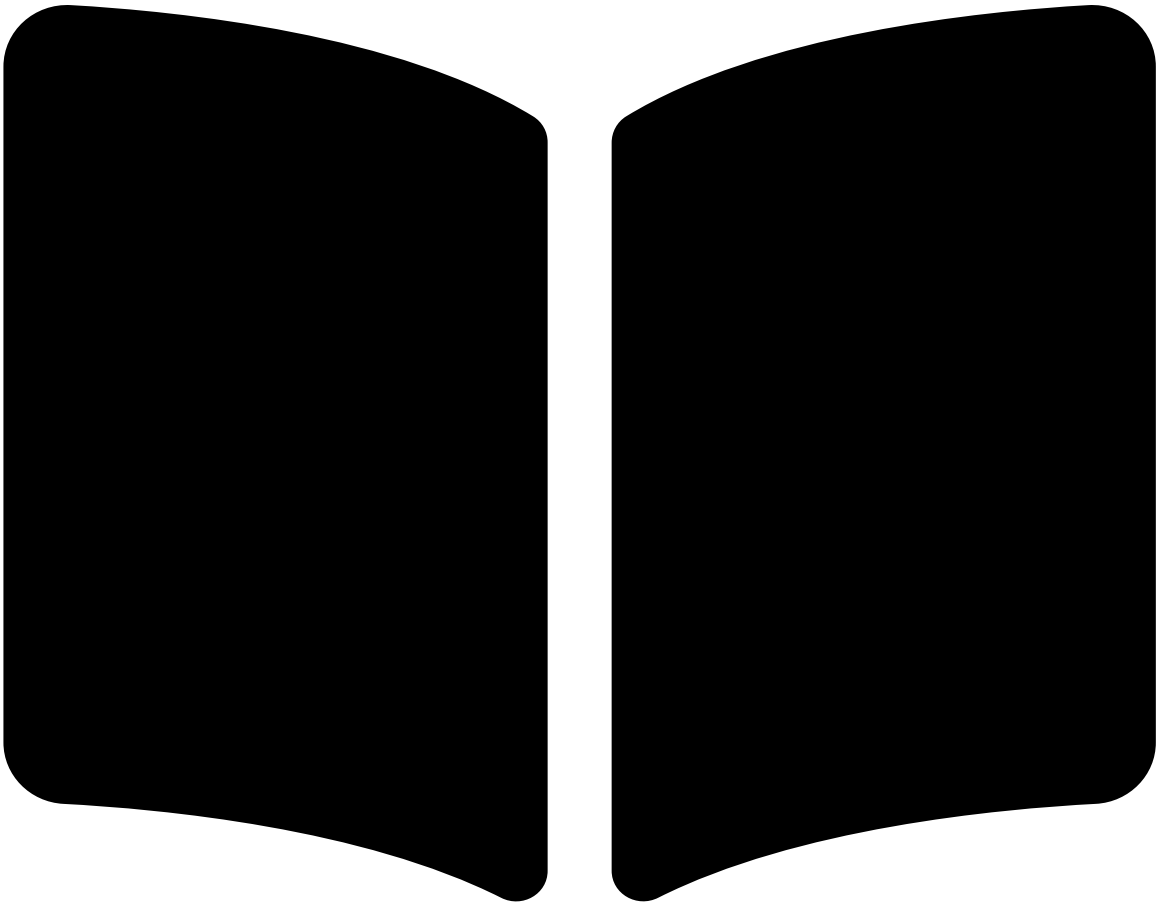

Keep Your Winter Air Filtered and Clean

Snow falls, wind blows, the furnace clicks on – dust in ducts stirs. Avoid spewing muck by making washable filters. Use a wool sweater, wash it in hot water to felt and shrink it. Thickened wool works wonders for clean air circulation!

Read More

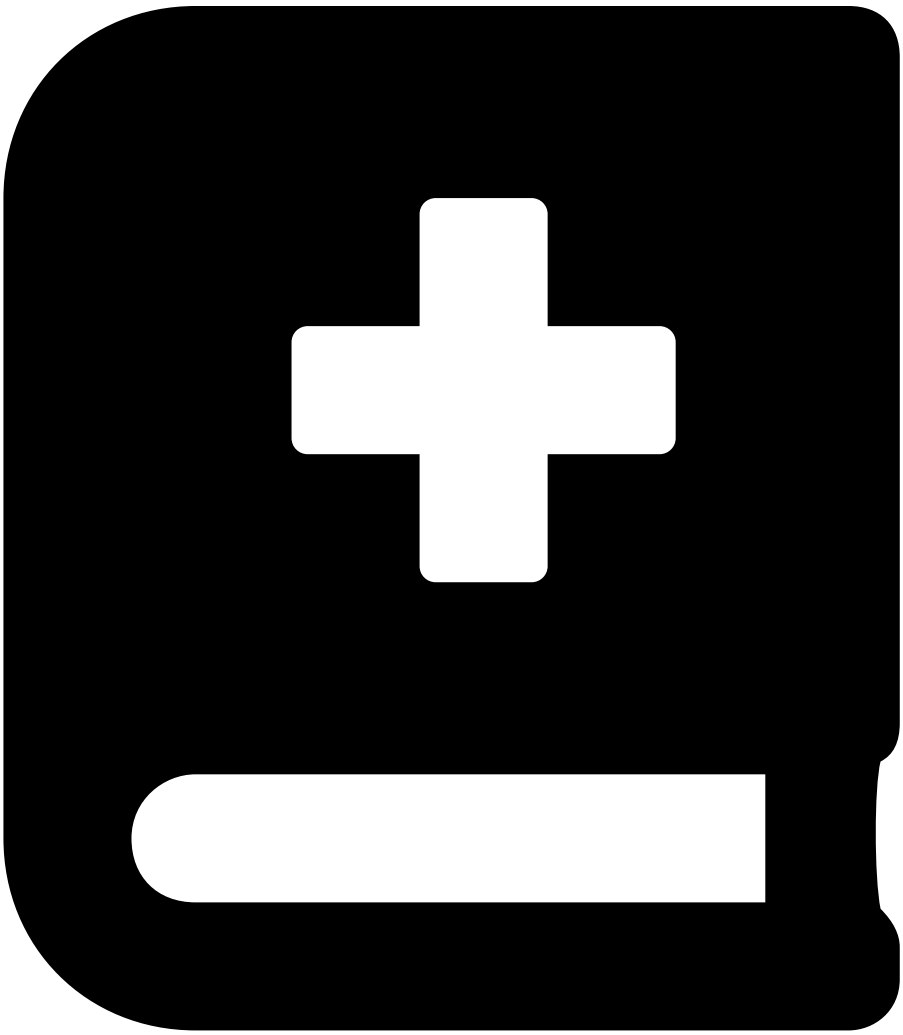

What are Good Fats to Eat

With autumn’s arrival, sunny skies vanish, and we’re left needing vitamin D. Without it, winter blues set in. To avoid deficiency, ensure your family gets natural vitamin D through diet, not synthetic sources or fortified foods. Stay healthy this season!

Read More

250 TABLETS

Why Wouldn’t a Mom Use Homeopathy

This guest post by Joette Calabrese introduces homeopathy for children. Tired of ineffective drugs with hidden side effects? Fine print reveals crucial info – so why not explore safer, natural remedies? Stay tuned for practical alternatives to conventional medicine.

Read More