

He's Making His List

No doubt, Santa is going to be very busy in the coming days. You know the drill; he's making his list ... checking it twice.

He might even look to you to lend him a hand!

When my boys were little, I used to help Santa by filling their stockings. I didn't give anything extravagant as stocking stuffers – an orange, a little bit of chocolate, and maybe some socks or a toothbrush.

I know, I know. What fun is that? Why didn't I just give them coal, for crying out loud? (More than likely, that's what my kids thought, too.)

But personally, I think Santa appreciates our helping out by giving useful, practical things.

And what could be more practical than Practical Homeopathy®?

These days, I often fill my sons' stockings with combination remedies from Boiron.

Combination remedies are the perfect gift to give to folks who are new to homeopathy and incredibly convenient for those who are more experienced.

No matter how much you know about homeopathy, when you're stuck in the car with the kids in the backseat complaining about feeling sick, there's no time to take the case. Just grab the appropriate combination remedy and throw it at them! Voila! Problem solved!

Boiron offers so many well-thought-out combination remedies. A great stocking stuffer is ColdCalm® – perfect for the winter months.

Or there's Oscillococcinum for flu, ThroatCalm® for sore throats, SinusCalm™ for nasal congestion, SleepCalm™ for sleeplessness, Boiron's AllergyCalm® (formerly called RhinAllergy® or Sabadil) for allergies, and several others you'll find on Boiron's website.

However, I've seen a question asked several times in our social media forums about combination remedies that I want to address.

"Joette, you always recommend not using more than five or so remedies at a time. How can I use these combination remedies if they contain 7, 9, or 10 medicines?"

First of all, these combination remedies are used in acute situations.

With chronic conditions, granted, I do teach to limit the number of medicines you are using at one time.

But with these combination remedies, you're not planning to take them forevermore! An acute condition should resolve in a short time – a day or two or three. Even as soon as minutes in certain circumstances.

Secondly, the medicines contained in these proprietary formulas are in low potencies.

And third, we trust Boiron!

Boiron is of course compliant with government regulation and has a stellar reputation. They've been around a long time.

Yes, I would be wary of combination remedies from obscure vendors you might find on the internet – names you haven't heard of before. But Boiron has earned our consumer confidence – they know what they're doing!

So, you know your loved ones. Give whichever combination remedy your recipient would benefit most from.

And don't forget to use the coupon code "joette" to save 20% on your entire order!

If your loved one is ready to learn more about homeopathy, consider purchasing Gateway to Homeopathy for them! Imagine how excited they'll be when they see my study group book peeking out of their stocking?

What a perfect gift to have as they begin the new year! A truly life-changing gift.

Between giving combination remedies and books – or even courses – there's no better way to pass on the good news of homeopathy – and help Santa out!

By the way, I have no affiliate programs nor am I compensated for writing this, any of my writings, nor lending my name to your discount code. I find the pharmaceutical companies' dirty methods of influencing compliant medical doctors to be disingenuous and reprehensible. Instead, I offer a discount to you.

In short, I direct you to homeopathy products that I believe in.

And that's that.

Warmly,

P.S. Books on homeopathy are also a great gift idea. In fact, I've noticed questions on Facebook and my Mighty Members' forum asking which repertories and materia medicas I recommend.

Well, my answer requires a bit longer explanation than merely providing a list. So, this Thursday, I'll share my thoughts in my weekly Memo to Mighty Members.

As we face more and more censorship from Facebook, you'll find our Mighty Member site a safe enclave for me to more candidly offer my opinions and for you to discuss homeopathy with like-minded others.

Plus, you can watch my weekly Facebook Live events there – without succumbing to a Facebook account!

I hope you'll join us. Joette's Mighty Members are having fun!
