

Shell Shocked: 1 Cracked Turtle + 1 Prepared Daughter = 1 Happy Ending

Reading others' success stories with homeopathy is not only inspirational, but it's also aspirational. Those who study Practical Homeopathy® become increasingly prepared for any eventuality or emergency, whether it's healing their families, nurturing friends, or providing first aid to rescued animals.

Case in point, a recent Academy of Practical Homeopathy® applicant shared her success story with an injured turtle. Did Dr. Samuel Hahnemann know how far-reaching homeopathy would be as he unearthed the power of highly diluted and succussed natural substances?

I have no doubt he did. But I'm not sure he knew that a little turtle would have his homeopathic medicines to thank for a renewed lease on life.

"My daughter accidentally hit a turtle on a country road at dusk. She brought the turtle home to see if she could help it.

"The turtle looked like it was dead. It's back shell had a cracked in it with flesh showing between the two pieces. It's head, arms and legs were tucked inside the shell and the turtle was not moving.

"I had made my daughter a first aid kit based on the handout in Gateway I. All the remedies (except the cell salts) were in liquid form making it easy to administer it to the turtle.

"She dropped Aconite on it's head and almost immediately his head emerged. Then he raised his head up towards her and opened his mouth. So, she put it a couple of drops of Aconite and Hypericum.

"The 'dead' turtle came alive and started walking around the box trying to climb the walls. We tried mending the shell but nothing would stick. The turtle was so frisky, we had to tape the turtle to a refrigerator dish to keep it from moving around as we tried taping its shell.

“(If you look closely you can see where the shell is separated).”

*“We kept the turtle a few more days to make sure it was feeling better and then returned it to where we had found it. When we let it out of the box it walked straight towards the pond, and we never saw it again.” – Cheryl M.**

Well done, Cheryl. How beautiful. That incident, which could have gone very differently, was completely turned around by a little empathy and homeopathy. What a wonderful testimony that your experience with Practical Homeopathy® also equipped your daughter to handle the potentially fatal situation with sprezzatura.

Dear Reader, this could be you!

All it takes to develop this kind of confident, swift action is to study more and help anyone in need. Indeed, celerity is possible with Practical Homeopathy® because we value efficacy and efficiency. We don't seek complexity when simplicity will do – and do much better.

This is the kind of student we have joining the Class of 2027 in The Academy of Practical Homeopathy®. It matters not if you've had extensive experience with homeopathy or if you're brand new to this paradigm. What you will learn – the skills you will gain – will give you the opportunity to become more valuable than you've ever imagined to yourself, the ones you love, and those in your community whom you're able to help.

There's no time like the present to:

- Garner the skill and knowledge to achieve health freedom for your loved ones.
- Exit the medical treadmill with confidence.
- Achieve the power of proper attitude: the confidence we instill through The Academy experience.
- Boost your family's finances by utilizing your new expertise.
- And be able to help a little injured turtle ... when you least expect it.

If you have not yet joined my Founders' List to learn more about The Academy, I urge you to do so today. There's no obligation; it's simply the only way we can send you more information.

If you've already joined the Founders' List, yet you're still on the fence, my team is standing by to answer your questions. Just fill out this convenient form. They'll also help craft a tuition plan that feels comfortable and truly serves you. As Dan Kennedy said, "The price of the seeds or the planting is irrelevant. It's the value of the harvest that matters."

Pass on the good news of Practical Homeopathy®!
