

Lauren Mitchell – Cleveland, Ohio

Although I have not had the time to enroll in a class or go through the self study with a group (which I still intend to do), I have been pouring over your blogs and site and have been blessed to be able to treat several ailments my family has suffered over the past few months since my first contact. Here are a few we have been having success with:

Hemorrhoids

Sties

Stress, hot flashes, sleep problems (all related to adrenal fatigue)

Tummy troubles

Bladder infection

I am even using the Banerji protocols to try to deal with suspected breast cancer in my older cat.

Thank you, thank you, thank you for all the info you send out, for all your encouragements, for giving me the confidence and resources to really deal with our health from the inside/cause out/symptoms. This has been life changing for me.
