

Sincerely, Gina Snow

I started using homeopathy 16 years ago as an alternative modality for a sick kitty. Recently, I found myself looking for its healing powers for myself. Two years ago, I injured my back, while trail running. The pain was becoming progressive and debilitating as the days, weeks and months passed.

I tried different alternatives including chiropractic, acupuncture and massage. All seemed to offer some help, but I always quickly regressed. I had to find a homeopath, because I knew homeopathy was the only way I could truly finish the pain.

While searching through Homeopathy Today and Wise Traditions, I found a homeopath that had the proper education and experience to help me. I found Joette. I especially liked reading her articles, as it seemed that we were on the "same page" about things.

My first appointment was 2 months ago and after suffering for 2 years, I am approximately 85% healed and more than just my back was healed! I am confident that within the next couple of months, I will be more than completely well.

I will be forever grateful for the accurate remedy and homeopathic information given by Joette.

Being able to bend down to tie your shoes should not be a luxury, yet the remedy has brought a simple luxury back to me. For that, I am even more sold on the strength of homeopathy and all the vitality it can offer.
