After working with Joette for the last several years for this or that, I've seen a process of health unfolding. When I first contacted Joette, I had just lost my job as a senior executive for a company in NYC due to downsizing. I felt desperate, depressed and unable to face the problem squarely. The homeopathic remedies Joette recommended helped me with this angst. Shortly after feeling well enough, we sold our home in NY and moved to PA, where I began a new position and all was well for some time. Recently, I was again laid off, when my position was eliminated as a result of restructuring at the firm. This time, in spite of having uprooted my family, selling and buying another home, moving to another state and overcoming a myriad of other adversities, I didn't fall into depression like the last time. In spite of the complex circumstances, my attitude was completely different. I know it's the remedies I've been using for my sinuses and also for my general disposition that have girded me to a better level of health. Psorinum in particular has done marvelous work. And my chronic post nasal drip and watery eyes have also mitigated. I'm still me, but new and improved!
