The good news is that I am doing much better. My estrogen was increased, and the nausea stopped within 2-3 days. I have had this problem in the past with low estrogen levels causing nausea and digestive problems, but it was so many years ago that I did not recall the seriousness of the impact.

The acid indigestion stopped when I discontinued eating rice; apparently my system will take some time to digest starches. I have lost 18 pounds, but do feel that I am on the road to recovery. I think you are an amazing healer with homeopathy and your science/ knowledge base. Your reviewing my medical history for me has proven most valuable, as I have remembered in more depth past health problems and can better articulate them to others. When a doctor says that I am imagining a problem, I now have the confidence to continue my search for solutions to medical problems rather than accepting treatment that merely impacts the symptoms. Because I am on the road to recovery, I am going to discontinue my treatments with you at this time, and am canceling our appointment for April. Thank you again for your expertise, and very thoroughly educated approach.
